About Humboldt State University

Humboldt State University is nestled between the blue-green waters of the Pacific Ocean and the towering redwood forests of northern California. Founded in 1913 as a school to train teachers, Humboldt is consistently cited among the top 10% of regional colleges and universities in the United States, and was one of the first campuses of what would become the 23-campus California State University system.

Humboldt & OdysseyHMS Judicial

Like most schools, Humboldt deals with incidents and student judicial records on a regular basis. Over the past several years, Residence Life has used an internal FileMaker Pro database to track Housing judicial records. Over time there has been difficulty updating and making modifications to the database to meet their current needs. At the same time, the Campus Judicial Coordinator has been using a separate access database to track campus-wide, non-housing judicial records.

Beginning in the fall of 2002, the University implemented an alcohol/drug intervention plan that combines their Housing and University intervention strategies. However, over the past year they have found extreme difficulty in tracking students through their various levels of interventions, especially those students who have been in communication with both the Housing Office and the Campus Judicial Coordinator.

The main goal of using OdysseyHMS Judicial is to improve the University's ability to coordinate, track and communicate information regarding student judicial records. OdysseyHMS Judicial would provide a shared database for the first time so that the housing office can see other non-housing incidents for a student and vice versa. According to Issac Carter, Associate Director of Housing, "OdysseyHMS Judicial will provide them with a centralized system of information storage and management."

Humboldt installed OdysseyHMS Judicial on May 12, 2003, and will be testing the system by using it for Summer incidents. They are planning to use it as the main Judicial system starting in Fall 2003. Issac Carter and his staff are excited to be using the new Judicial system and are anxious to get new components and functionality as they proceed with the test.

Some of the functionality provided by the new module, includes:

- Create and track all events associated with the Judicial Process, including due dates for the next event in the process.
- Create custom judicial documents using Microsoft® Word and generate documents at any point throughout the judicial process.
- Define incident types to include a reference to 'Clery Act Incident Type' in order to perform Clery Act Reporting at the touch of a button.

Humboldt & CBORD

Humboldt has been a CBORD customer since February, 1992 with the first install being the OmniONE™ Privilege Control System. Shortly after that, Humboldt began using HMS CBORD™ for housing. Over the past 11 years, Humboldt has continued to grow and upgrade using CBORD's products. Currently Humboldt uses CBORD's Odyssey PCS™ for privilege control and CBORD's Odyssey HMS for their Housing Solution.

"OdysseyHMS Judicial will provide us with a centralized system of information storage and management."
