

CBORD releases versatile, unattended cash-to-account station

Wednesday, May 20, 2009

Ithaca, New York – The CBORD Group, Inc., the leading provider of food and nutrition management solutions, cashless card systems, and integrated security solutions to healthcare facilities and colleges and universities, is pleased to announce the release of the ValuePort III, a versatile, unattended cash-to-account station giving cardholders the ability to view current account balances and deposit cash directly into their accounts.

The ValuePort III is a 24-hour cash-to-account station providing additional convenience for cardholders to view account balances, deposit cash, and dispense guest cards. An integrated receipt printer provides cardholders with a complete record of their transactions.

“We have been using the ValuePort III for several months, and we’re very happy with it,” says Dolores Harper, Director, University ID, Texas Tech University. “Our students haven’t had any issues using it. In fact, after just a few months we are averaging several hundred dollars in deposits every couple of days. I like the reporting: when you take the money out, the report provides the bill count by denomination and displays a grand total. The configuration of IP addresses and the like is simple, and I like having our school color on the front. “

Listening to the needs of our customers, CBORD continues to improve the functionality and quality of our products. The ValuePort III replaces its predecessors—the ValuePort, ValuePort II, and CS Value Terminal.
